DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed 8/23/07 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues Keogh does not teach grafting of a wound healing factor and Keogh only teaches indirect bonding between a bioactive agent and a blood-contacting article, and thus does not teach or suggest grafting wound healing factors into the porous pad. The Examiner has relied on Keogh to show the benefits of grafting an agent onto a polymeric substance. In response to applicant's arguments against the references individually, one cannot show nonobviousness by attacking references individually where the rejections are based on combinations of references. See In re Keller, 642 F.2d 413, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981); In re Merck & Co., 800 F.2d 1091, 231 USPQ 375 (Fed. Cir. 1986). In response to applicant's argument that the examiner's conclusion of obviousness is based upon improper hindsight reasoning, it must be recognized that any judgment on obviousness is in a sense necessarily a reconstruction based upon hindsight reasoning. But so long as it takes into account only knowledge which was within the level of ordinary skill at the time the claimed invention was made, and does not include knowledge gleaned only from the applicant's disclosure, such a reconstruction is proper. See In re McLaughlin, 443 F.2d 1392, 170 USPQ 209 (CCPA 1971).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Art Unit: 3761

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1, 2, 4, 5, and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Zamierowski in view of Keogh et al. USPN 5344455.

Zamierowski teaches a wound healing combination comprising a porous pad 12, 14 that is permeable to fluids and is injected with a plurality of wound healing factors and a suction tube 28 in fluid communication with the porous pad and a vacuum source. Zamierowski teaches a wound healing combination with a porous pad 12, 14 injected with a plurality of wound healing factors, such as growth factors, antibiotics, and analgesics (col. 4, lines 42-46). It is inherent that medical care that growth factors in wound healing comprise of a basic fibroblast growth factor and an antimicrobial agent comprise an antibiotic.

Zamierowski does not disclose the limitation of grafting wound healing factors into the pad. Keogh discloses grafting a bioactive agent, such as basic fibroblast growth factor, onto a polymeric substance for use in blood-contacting polymeric surfaces that do not promote red cell destruction and coagulation of blood (Keogh col. 1, lines 14-20; col. 2, lines 1-31; col. 4, lines 44-55; col. 10, line 63 through col. 11, line 6; col. 14, lines 5-37). One having ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to graft the wound-healing agent of Zamierowski onto the pad of Zamierowski for the benefits that Keogh teaches. Zamierowski/Keogh further discloses drapes 18, 22, 24 for sealing the pad.

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
